

Home > Projects > Detail > 7 Breathtaking Retail Spaces

7 BREATHTAKING RETAIL SPACES

Mairi Beautyman | April 25, 2014 |

Slideshow

ALL

EDUCATIONAL

ENTERTAINMENT

HEALTHCARE

HOSPITALITY

INSTITUTIONAL

KITCHEN & BATH

OFFICE

RESIDENTIAL

RETAIL

There's never a dull moment in retail design. From pixelated wall shelving based on the human eye to "rolling stone" display cases and faceted surfaces resembling cut gems, here are seven retail design projects tracting shoppers with an appetite for innovation.

PROJECT NAME 7 Retail Projects

follow the design leader

INTERIOR DESIGN

7. Firm: LMOD Studio in collaboration with Alexander Wang

Project: Alexander Wang

Location: Tokyo

Standout: Recessed LEDs on the black marble facade call attention to this 5,000-square-foot, three-level flagship—necessary since the store sits at the far end of a street in Aoyama, Tokyo's entertainment and shopping district. Inside, marble walls and pedestals, area rugs in wool and silk, and mostly custom furnishings create a white backdrop and black accent frame for collections.