The fashionable Aoyama district of Tokyo, Japan, is flourishing even more with the addition of Alexander Wang's flagship store. Neighboring the newly opened INTERSECT by Lexus destination and ACNE and Thom Browne's flagships, A-Wang's three-story standalone stocks menswear, womenswear and the designer's T line, as well as special items exclusive to Tokyo. The store is a result of the brand's explosive growth, becoming its 12th store to open just this past year. Browse the gallery for the view inside.
